From the Principal's Desk.

I am very happy to say that we are publishing our monthly issue of our newsletter. The newsletter carries the message and the activities of the College in the immediate past. The Father of Economics Adam Smith in his famous book 'An Inquiry into Nature and Causes of Wealth of Nations' has pointed out the following about the universities and higher education institutions.

"The improvements which, in modern times have been made in several different branches of philosophy, have not, the greater part of them, been made in universities, though some, no doubt, have. The greater part of universities have not even been very forward to adopt those improvements, after they were made, and several of those learned societies have chosen to remain, for a long time, the sanctuaries in which exploded systems and obsolete prejudices found shelter and protection, after they had been hunted out of every other corner of the world. In general, the richest and best endowed universities have been slowest in adopting those improvements, and the most averse to permit any considerable change in the established plan of education. Those improvements were more easily introduced into some of the poorer universities, in which the teachers, depending upon their reputation for the greater part of their subsistence, were obliged to pay more attention to the current opinions of the world."

What had said by Adam Smith is true to our Universities and Colleges; it is also true that the improvement is to be promoted by teachers who are concerned about the reputation. I feel that even now the teaching community has a major role in changing the system. This year also we were able to add one new faculty to the women students, which will help women students to stay in the campus and study. Three national seminars were also conducted in the college with the support of the UGC. All these are our humble efforts to move forward. Value Education Training was also given to the faculty. I hope our teachers will take up the challenge of giving value based education to the students, because our system is giving knowledge base for living but not the life skills which are very much needed which I think is very important to Higher Education. I also take this opportunity to thank all members of the MTC community for the love and support they have given me in the last 13 years in discharging some of these much cherished things as a teacher and as a principal.

With best wishes,
Prof. Abraham. P. Mathew
Principal

Memoriam

(25 Nov. 1932- 11 Apr. 1988)

Rt. Rev. Easow Mar Timotheos, a glowing morning star shined for the people of the land was born on 25th Nov. 1932 at Thonniyamala, a tiny village about 4 kms. from Pathanamthitta. His zeal for mission made him dedicate his life for missionary work. A member of Christa Panthi Ashram for 21 years from the age of 20, he had his theological education at the Leonard Theological College, Jabalpur and later at St. Augustine College, Canterbury, UK. His life of prayer and deep spiritual experience encouraged him to engage himself in rural development activities. He was consecrated Bishop along with Joseph Mar Irenaeus in February 1975 and was given charge of the Kunnamkulam-Malabar Diocese where he worked strenuously for the upliftment of the parishes in those under-developed areas of Malabar. The Mar Thoma College at Chungathara, which was started out of his personal interest in 1981, was instituted to facilitate higher education in Nilambur area. He gave warm support to the Wandoor Project taken up by the Christian Agency for Rural Development (CARD). As a committed person, having evangelical zeal, he helped many to find new life in Jesus. His sudden demise at Port Blair, on 11th April 1988 is a great loss to the church. Today various Bible institutes and educational institutions established in his memory ignite the evangelical zeal and educational interests of the church throughout the country and abroad.
